WELCOME

I so appreciate your considering me to capture your newborn in a relaxed, very natural state in the comfort and security of your own home.

I absolutely love photographing newborns in their natural environment - at home with their parents and any siblings.

My hope and dream is that these images will bring you as much pleasure and joy today and from generation to generation.

Please take a moment to read through this guide and I would be happy to answer any questions.

This is me - Patti - with one of my granddaughters at my happy place - the beach

I am located in the Bradenton/Sarasota area of Florida. My husband and I have three adult children and six beautiful grandchildren. We also have a cat named Addie - short for Adrian because "Rocky" is my favorite movie.

I recently switched from formal, posed newborn photography to lifestyle newborn photography. I was finding I really wanted to photograph a newborn and their family in their natural environment being their true selves. No more formal posing, putting them in unnatural positions. Just baby-led posing with a little direction and guidance from me.

Real life, making connections.

If you are looking for a patient and willing observer to capture real life moments, I would love to be a part of your life - even for a little moment in time.

Why Print?

I came across a saying a while back that states,

It has long been acknowledged that family photos on display in a home help boost a child's sense of identity and create a sense of belonging.

Each time they walk by a family photograph, which is countless times a day, a message is sent...

"You, my dear child, are important. You matter. You have a special place in this world. You are part of this thing called FAMILY and we love you."

I wonder what they think when they walk by a USB drive?

That's why I include an album with my all-inclusive pricing because I want you to take away something tangible. I believe photos are meant to be viewed by all who enter your home - whether on the wall or table or both. You always have the option to purchase additional artwork.

Print your forever visual moments.

What to Expect

We'll have a little chat on the phone to tell you about the process.

You can decide then or after you have discussed with your family if you would like me to capture your lifestyle moments.

You will sign an agreement and pay a non-refundable retainer to hold and reserve your date. I will send this to you electronically to make it easy, peasy. This retainer fee will be applied towards your balance due.

I will send you my "What to Expect from Your Lifestyle Newborn Portrait Session" that will explain everything about the day of the session. wardrobe, etc.

I'll show up in my comfy leggings, take my shoes off and be ready to shoot from anywhere - on the floor, on a chair or most definitely on the bed.

Be ready to have fun, relax and be natural.

Expect a delivery time of your crystal USB flash drive within two weeks of the session and the album approximately four to six weeks after the session. You will have the opportunity to purchase other quality products in which you may be interested.

I always get excited waiting to hear how a client responds to their images.

I appreciate your reviews and referrals. It's a great way to support my local small business.

Bump to Baby

We'll begin with a mini-maternity session when you are about 32-36 weeks.

When your baby arrives, I will come to the hospital or place of birth to capture those fleeting moments within the first 24-48 hours of birth.

After you are home for a couple of weeks, I will arrive to capture your family and newborn in a very relaxed, natural state.

With the combination of these three sessions, you will receive high resolution digitals of professionally edited images delivered via a crystal USB flash drive + print release. In addition, you will also receive a complimentary 8 x 10 acrylic block with your favorite image as well as a premium 10 x 10 leather album with 30 gorgeous images from your lifestyle newborn session only. Leave the design to me. I will design and personally deliver a beautiful custom album that will be passed down from generation to generation.

Signed agreement and non-refundable retainer fee of $200 required to hold and reserve the date. This is applied to the balance of your session. Balance will be due the day of your first session and processed prior to the beginning of the session.
